Innovation, engineered for what's next.

The Tire Technology Expo 2026, held in Hannover, Germany, once again confirmed its role as one of the most important global meeting points for the tire manufacturing industry, bringing together leading companies, experts and innovators from around the world.

Comerio Ercole took part in this year's edition with great success, presenting its latest developments also during the conference sessions, where the presentation generated significant interest and a high level of engagement with many questions and active participation from the audience. The company's presence at the exhibition further strengthened relationships with customers and partners while confirming its commitment to continuous innovation and technological excellence.

A key highlight of the event was the recognition received at the Tire Technology International Awards for Innovation and Excellence 2026, where Comerio Ercole was awarded the "Tire Manufacturing Innovation of the Year" title. In addition, the company was shortlisted in multiple award categories, further underlining the strength and consistency of its innovation-driven approach and its role as a leading technology partner in the tire manufacturing sector.

Following the Tire Technology Expo and as part of its long-standing collaboration as a trusted supplier, Comerio Ercole also took part in the Continental Supplier Awards, an important and always appreciated occasion that celebrates strong partnerships and shared commitment to quality and performance.

Comerio Ercole would like to sincerely thank all visitors, customers and partners who contributed to making this edition of the expo such a successful and rewarding experience. Your participation and interest made the event a valuable opportunity for exchange and we look forward to staying in touch all of you.
